

1 A. That means I usually look at the manuscripts when
2 they are turned in to see that what the editor has
3 been doing is adequate. So I'll read select
4 passages. I'll look at their formatting. I'm
5 looking at the -- how they impact the manuscript.
6 And I do that on most manuscripts.

7 So yes, in the sense of spot checking what was
8 done, yes. Checking what might, I don't know, what
9 might have been done, you can't really do that.

10 Q. Did you find the work adequate on the whole?

11 A. Yes.

12 Q. Did you spot check Mr. Strohmer's edit of the 13 introduction to the book?

14 A. I don't know if I did that particular section or 15 not.

16 Q. Did you spot check his work on the appendix to the 17 book?

18 A. It's unlikely that I did anything with the 19 appendix.

20 Q. Really? How come?

21 A. I don't generally read appendices.

22 Q. Who at Harvest House was responsible for reading
23 the appendix?

24 A. No one was responsible for reading the appendix.

25 Q. Would it be fair to say that no one at Harvest
